STORM ON LAKES CAUSES DAMAGE

Buildings Blown Down In Chicago And Elsewhere.

Gale on Lakes Was Anticipated and Shipping Escaped Injury From It.

MICHIGAN VISITED BY WIND.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—This city was visited today by a severe rain, snow and wind storm which did much damage in the city and in the suburbs. In the business section of the city, a number of signs were blown down and several pedestrians sustained slight injuries.

The chimney of a building occupied as a restaurant went crashing through the skylight causing a panic among waiters and patrons, who fled wildly into the street. Several people were severely bruised in the crush.

The official figures given for the velocity of the gale was 58 miles an hour, but in the outlying districts the wind attained a speed considerably greater.

On the sides of the city barns and sheds were unroofed and many were blown down. In parts of South Chicago the gale blew fences into the streets faster than the policeman and firemen could clear them away.

The plant of the Chicago Brewing company at One Hundredth street and Calumet River was considerably damaged. At Eighty-fourth Place and Bond avenue a newly completed frame building in which a number of men were working, was blown down and the men all imprisoned in the debris. They were extricated by firemen and all escaped with slight injuries. The damage to trees and shrubbery in the parks and the suburbs is very heavy and shade trees in all sections of the city were levelled with the ground.

The gale was preceded by a rain of 1.14 inches, falling within three hours. During the greater part of the afternoon the wind blew 55 miles an hour, but by evening it had sunk to 36 and the weather was rapidly becoming cold.

Many reports from points on the Great Lakes are that a heavy gale caused much damage, and while the reports are very meagre, considerable loss of life is feared.

Perish in Mountainous Seas.
Holland, Mich., Nov. 22.—Contractor James Bennett, of Muskegon, and three laborers who were working on a pier extension here have been given up as lost. They were last seen clinging to the low breakwater 700 feet from shore this afternoon and mountainous seas were breaking over them. The launch they used was dashed to pieces when today's gale came up.

Severe in Michigan.
Marquette, Mich., Nov. 22.—A severe storm raged all day and continued with unabated vigor. Trains are hours late and traction service is demoralized. A foot of snow has fallen.

Much Damage in Kalamazoo.
Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 22.—A severe wind blew in plate glass fronts and did other damage here today. Adam Misser, 16 years old, was struck by a falling wall and fatally hurt.

Wall Collapses.
Buffalo, Nov. 22.—Buffalo was struck by a 66-mile an hour gale today, causing a 50-foot wall at the water works pumping station to collapse. Engineer Brown was buried beneath the debris. The water supply was shut off for two hours. The loss is $50,000. Shipping is in great danger.

Three Drowned.
Holland, Mich., Nov. 22.—Contractor James Bennett and three others, working on a pier extension were swept from the breakwater by heavy seas and drowned.

I. C. Improves Crossing.
The Illinois Central road began an improvement this morning which will be welcome. It is the reconstruction of tracks at Broadway and Eleventh streets. This morning excavations for new steel were begun. The heaviest track will be laid and the crossing placed in the best of condition. Soggy mud fills the space on both sides of the tracks.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON HOUSE Shows Republicans to Have Majority of Fifty-Eight Representatives.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The first official printed report on the membership of the house of representatives of the sixtieth congress has just been issued by the clerk of the house. The Republicans are shown to have a majority of fifty-eight. The Republican membership is 222, and the Democratic membership 164. These figures take into account the election of Charles McGavin, Republican, over Stanley Kunz, Democrat, from the Eighth Illinois district, recently reported by the official board of canvassers.

FELL IN RIVER

WHARFMASTER FRANK BROWN HAS ACCIDENT.

Twenty Feet of Ice Cold Water and He Cumbered With All His Clothing.

Captain Frank Brown, wharfmaster, fell off the wharfbow into the river this morning at 10 o'clock.

He is an expert swimmer and swam out without any assistance. Captain Brown was fixing a "guy" to the gang-plank, which gave way, letting him fall into the river.

He went in head first. The water was bitterly cold and cumbered as he was with all his clothes, it was a hard job getting out. Where he fell in it is 20 feet deep. He fell in between the wharfbow and the shore.

After a vigorous rub-down, in the office of the wharfbow, he felt no more bad effects than if he had taken a cold plunge in his bath-tub.

RUSHING WORK

COLUMBIA CONSTRUCTION COMPANY RESUMES.

Intersections Will Be in Good Condition When Completed, Says Foreman.

The Columbia Construction company doing the track work for the Paducah Traction company, as soon as the rain ceased put laborers to pumping water out of the excavations made for the double tracks on Broadway, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Today the gang was put to work completing the excavations, and if the weather permits the company will be ready to lay brick by the middle of next week.

Speaking of the work at Third street and Kentucky avenue and Fourth street and Broadway, of which the board of public works is complaining a foreman of the company stated that the work will be satisfactory when completed. The company is bonded to place the street in good condition.

FRANCE BARS AMERICAN PORK

Temporary Exclusion Due to Terms of New Meat Statute.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The elimination of the microscopic examination of pork from the new American meat inspection regulations has resulted in a preliminary decision barring American ham, bacon, canned pork, etc. After long diplomatic negotiations several years ago France agreed to admit American pork upon a government certificate that it had been microscopically examined and found sound. When, therefore, the new regulations instituted after the packing disclosures were submitted to the authorities here they ruled that they did not comply with the old agreement. Ambassador McCormick has made energetic representations to the foreign office.

GOOD RECEPTION.

President Is Accorded at San Juan—Return Delayed.

San Juan, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt was accorded a reception surpassing anything ever seen here today in the gubernatorial mansion. The president's return to the United States will be delayed somewhat, as the roughness of the sea makes it impossible for him to board the Louisiana. He will return to Ponce to embark. The trip gave him an opportunity to see portions of the islands he would have missed otherwise.

ANOTHER STATE IS AFTER ISBELL

Charged With Horse Stealing In Illinois.

Aged Prisoner Makes No Defense and Is Held to Grand Jury Today.

FALSE PRETENSES ONE CASE

John Isbell, charged with stealing a horse from Campbell & Mac Gowan liveryman of Bowling Green, is also thought to be wanted in Illinois for horse stealing.

When he was presented on two warrants, one charging horse stealing and the second obtaining money by false pretenses, Isbell was composed. He waived examination and was held over.

New developments mean $100 reward to Patrolman Henry Singery who arrested Isbell and more charges against the prisoner.

John Isbell is wanted in Illinois for stealing a horse last summer. There is a reward out amounting to $100, and if Isbell is tried and convicted in an Illinois court Patrolman Henry Singery will receive the reward.

Last evening R. E. Lawson and W. D. Stokes, of Bingham, Ill., were at a local hotel. They picked up a copy of The Sun and read of Isbell's arrest and the evidence against him. His description led them to investigate.

"Isbell is wanted in Vandalia, Ill., for horse stealing," Lawson declared. "We spoke a few words with the prisoner today. He will talk little. However he said enough to convince us that he is the man who hired a horse and buggy from W. Green, of Vandalia, and got away with it. Isbell would not tell us this morning where he disposed of the outfit, although we pumped it out of him that he was the man who engaged it."

Isbell is crippled. He walks with difficulty and ordinarily would excite the sympathy of any court or jury. He sold a horse and buggy belonging to Campbell and Mac Gowan, of Bowling Green, to Fletcher Terrill. He admitted getting the horse. The horse and buggy were turned over by Judge Cross to Mac Gowan this morning.

This afternoon Police Captain Frank Harlan received a message from Vandalia, Ill., saying that John Isbell, held over this morning for horse stealing, is wanted there.

Patrolman Henry Singery, who arrested Isbell, received $10, his reward from Messrs. Campbell & Mac Gowan, of Bowling Green, owners of the horse and buggy Isbell stole.

GYPSY SOCIAL.

Will Be Given By Philaetha Class of Baptist Church.

Final arrangements were made last night for the "Gypsy Social" to be given next Tuesday evening by the Philaetha class of the First Baptist church. It will be given in the St. Nicholas hotel and the hours will be from 8 till 12 o'clock. Minimum fines for certain offenses are stipulated in the invitations, which are worded and gotten out in an unique way. Fortune telling by the members of the class who will be dressed in Gypsy style, will be one of the features of the evening.

FOUR KILLED IN ODESSA FIGHTS

Terrorists Try to Murder Police Official, But Are Repulsed.

Odesa, Nov. 22.—A desperate attempt was made here today by a band said to be composed of social revolutionists to murder the chief commissary of the Odesa police. The police killed three of the assailants and wounded three more. The others escaped. Another band of terrorists seized $2,000 in the office of the Russian Navigation company after killing a police official.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

HOTEL BLOWN UP; TWO KILLED

Fight Between Frenchmen and Italians Followed by Disaster.

Grand Forks, B. C., Nov. 22.—Following a fight in the Canadian hotel at Niagara, a railway station near here, yesterday, between Frenchmen and Italians, the hotel was blown up by unknown persons, who exploded three boxes of dynamite. Louis King, aged 18, and an unknown Italian were killed and nine persons were injured. One side of the building was demolished and fire consumed the remainder of the structure. Threats to blow up the hotel were made after the fight.

INCREASE FORCE BEFORE JANUARY

Police Board Will Not Delay Plans A Moment

Detectives Will Be Added Next Month and Two Patrol Drivers Will Be Employed.

MAY HAVE WAGON GUARDS

Paducah will have 30 policemen by January 1, with two detectives, two patrol drivers, for night and day shift, and, perhaps, a patrol guard. This came from no less authoritative source than John Bond, president of the board of police commissioners.

"We will not wait for the general council to act," said Mr. Bond. "The law fixes the minimum at 30 men, and we will make the appointments next month. Then we will present the names to the general council in the usual manner for ratification."

"We will have detectives, too. Plain clothes men are invaluable in a city, and no force can do good work without them. They are not tied down to the routine duties of patrolmen, they are not easily spotted and they can devote their time to running down and ferreting out crime, instead of guarding property. They will recover enough property in a year to pay their salaries."

Two Wagon Drivers.
"Some change also will be made at headquarters. We can not keep a man on the patrol wagon twenty-four hours a day. There will be two patrol drivers, one for day and one for night, and we may have a guard, or another extra man to answer hurry calls. A patrolman should not be made to leave his beat. Under the present system, when a patrolman calls the wagon, he has to ride to the police station with his prisoner and leave his beat unprotected."

"We have not decided on all the changes, the board and Chief Collins are considering plans and we will have one devised by January 1 that will bring the Paducah department to a high standard of efficiency."

MAYFIELD

TEAM ARRIVES TO PLAY R. L. C.'S TODAY.

Football Game Called at 3:45 O'clock at Wallace Park This Afternoon.

The Mayfield football team arrived this morning and the game between that team and the R. L. C.'s will take place this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. The Mayfield team is a good looking, well-balanced set of players and a warm contest is expected. The R. L. C.'s have been reorganized since the game with the High school. The line-ups for both teams will be:

R. L. C.'s—Wickliffe, Hayes, Elliott, Monte Lack, Stanley, Katterjohn, Norton, Sights, Owen, Bower, Coburn, Rinekliff, Brooks, Stiles, Hughes.

Mayfield—Watson, Orr, Brewer, Boaz, Watkins, Baugh, Green, Ruthford, Hamlet, Albritton, Wilford.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY

Heavy Shock Is Felt at Poggibonsi, a Town Near Florence.

Sienna, Italy, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Poggibonsi (nineteen miles from Florence) says that a heavy earthquake shock was felt there at midnight.

SUN IS SHINING; WATERS RECEDE

Railroads Busy Repairing Damage to Tracks.

N. C. and St. L. Sent Out Accommodation This Morning—I. C. Resumes Its Regular Schedule.

OUT OF SHAPE IN FAR SOUTH

Old Sol, after five days concealment behind clouds, broke forth this morning in all his glory. The morning was cold and ice had formed in shallow gutters. A few clouds in the east were soon blown below the horizon and the sun's appearance made the hearts of a patient public glad. The temperature rose with the sun.

No one was more glad to see the change than the railroad official. The work trains could work under favorable circumstances repairing damage done the tracks by washouts. The N. C. and St. L. sent the early morning accommodation to Memphis and way stations. It was announced that trains on this road will be run on regular schedule time from today. The eight extra work trains did quick work. A night shift was kept busy and the road made possible for traffic.

The Illinois Central is still working extra crews in the south where the damage was greatest. Last night train, No. 104, from New Orleans to Louisville, was made up at Fulton. It passed here a little later. Other trains from the south were detoured over the L. & N. via Paris, Tenn.

On the Louisville division the greatest damage was caused by water over tracks. The washouts were few, but in many places the great volume of water stood over the rails several feet deep, making it impossible for the trains to move over them. Today the Illinois Central promised to have trains running on regular schedule time from the south.

BRITAIN MAY ACT IN CONGO.

Foreign Secretary Says Nation Awaits Decision of Belgians.

London, Nov. 22.—An important deputation representative of the various creeds and political parties of Great Britain called on Foreign Secretary Grey today to discuss the alleged atrocities in the Congo Free State. The speakers pointed out that the agitation for reform in the methods of administering the Congo Free State has become practically unanimous in this country. The fact that Secretary Grey consented to receive the deputation on the eve of the Congo debate in the Belgian parliament is considered significant. The secretary, in his reply, practically promised that unless the Belgian government takes steps to improve the prevailing conditions Great Britain will propose international action.

Dayton Has Horrible Mystery.

Dayton, O., Nov. 22.—Dora Gilman, a beautiful girl, aged twenty, was found dead on the commons along Groveland avenue, today. The body was horribly mutilated and marked with the imprints of her assassin's finger nails. The girl has been missing since she left her employment at the Cash Register works Tuesday night.

Deeds Filed.
M. F. Emery to J. T. Anderson, property near Eighth and Bachman streets, $400.

J. M. L. Russell to Mary Callen, property in the county, $1 and other considerations.

W. O. W. Reception.

Olive Camp, No. 2, W. O. W., will give a reception to the Woodmen of the city and their families, Tuesday evening, in honor of the opening of their new hall and club rooms 120 1-2 North Fourth street.

The front door to delight lies through the garden of duty.

WEATHER—Fair and cooler tonight. Friday partly cloudy with rising temperature. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 65 and the lowest today was 30.

TOT HURT IN QUEST OF A DOLL

Girl of 4 Years Breaks Glass of Show Window and Is Injured.

St. Paul, Nov. 22.—Odessa Merrill, aged 4 saw a big doll behind a showcase as she was walking along the street with her mother today, and with a cry sprang forward to get it. The child didn't realize that the doll was behind glass, and struck the showcase with her head. The glass broke and Odessa fell, her face scraping across a piece of jagged glass, which almost cut off her nose. She is in her cot at home now, her face bandaged so that only two brown eyes are visible.

PRINTERS' FIGHT

HAS COST THEM NEARLY SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Victory in Washington and Philadelphia Accepted as Good Indication.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—That the union printers of the country have spent nearly $6,000,000 in their fight for an eight-hour day became known yesterday. At the same time it was announced that a meeting in celebration of victories which are regarded as foreshadowing the "beginning of the end" in the long struggle will be held next Sunday afternoon. It is believed by the printers that the recent successes in Washington and Philadelphia, where employers of non-union printers have changed their nine-hour schedules to the eight-hour plan, give assurance of complete triumph for the movement at no distant day.

JUDGMENT

PAID OFF TODAY BY MAYOR YEISER.

Amount, With Interest and Costs, Was $5,006.66—Will Be Appropriated Next Year.

Mayor Yeiser and City Auditor Kirkland today paid off the judgment with interest and costs, amounting to $5,006.66, in the case of Cornelia Johnson against the city of Paducah. Miss Johnson was hurt a few years ago by being thrown over an embankment on Eleventh street and she sued the city. She recovered damages and the court of appeals sustained the verdict. No appropriation was made for the judgment this year, as the case was still pending in the higher courts, and the appropriation will have to be made in January.

TWAS "NO PLACE FOR LADY"

St. Louis "Only Fit for Dogs," Husband Wrote Wife Before Suiciding.

St. Louis, Nov. 22.—According to the deposition of Mrs. Emma M. Peterson of Boston, supporting a motion to dismiss her husband's suit for divorce, Benjamin D. Peterson, an insurance agent, does not consider St. Louis a proper place for a wife to live. She testified that when she wrote asking him why he did not send for her he answered that St. Louis was "no place for a lady to live" and "only fit for dogs."

Many Killed and Hurt.

Cherbourg, Nov. 22.—A dispatch received here reports that the North German Lloyd steamer, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which left today for New York, had been in a collision with the mail steamer Orinoco. Both vessels were severely damaged. It is declared that four members of the crew of the Kaiser Wilhelm were killed and 12 were injured. Five of the crew of the Orinoco are missing and are supposed to have been drowned.

Many Cellars Full of Water.

Fire Chief James Wood received numerous applications today from property owners desiring water pumped out of their cellars by the city steamer. Among the cellars reported filled are the Kolb building on North Third street, Home of the Friendless, Presbyterian church, Seventh and Jefferson streets, and Western District warehouses at First and Jefferson streets.

The right to rule is acquired by ruling ourselves aright.

TRAINING CLASS FOR TEACHERS

Established By Sunday School Association

Convention Closes After Most Interesting and Successful Session of All.

OLD PRESIDENT IS RE-ELECTED.

Interesting and instructive was the service last evening of the McCracken county Sunday school convention. The speakers were E. A. Fox, general secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School association, and William J. Vaughan, field worker for eastern Kentucky. Both were clear, bright and alive with concentrated enthusiasm. Mr. Fox has lost none of his force and sparkle in the eight years since he left here, but has rather gained in force, depth and breadth. He gave a comprehensive review of "Some of the New Things in Sunday School Work" last evening. Mr. Vaughan followed him with "Some Aspects of the Sunday School Work in the Mountains of Kentucky." He is a forceful, magnetic speaker, abounding in humor and hitting straight from the shoulder, a "typical mountaineer." He showed that the Sunday school work was doing much to eliminate the mountain fables.

A nominating committee composed of Mr. J. M. Brunson, Mr. A. J. Bamberg, Rev. D. C. Wright and Mr. E. A. Fox reported the following officers nominated for the county work:

President The Rev. W. E. Bourquin; vice president, the Rev. G. W. Banks; secretary and treasurer, Miss Annie Jones; superintendent of teachers' training, Prof. A. M. Rouse; superintendent of house to house visitation, S. J. Billington; superintendent of primary work, Miss Alice Compton; superintendent of home department, Prof. J. D. Smith.

The Rev. W. E. Bourquin has made a live county president and has done much to invigorate the Sunday school work throughout McCracken county, which is behind other counties of the state. He stated last evening there were twenty-one Sunday schools in the city, and twenty in the county, making a total of 41 Sunday schools only. In McCracken county, outside of Paducah, there are 3,000 white children and less than 1,000 are in Sunday schools. In the city out of 4,000 white children there are 1,500 out of Sunday school.

The convention closed this morning with an extra business meeting held at the Broadway Methodist church. The main purpose, the organization of a Union Teachers' Training class, was perfected. Mr. E. A. Fox remaining over to aid in the work.

It was decided to have a Union Training class for Sunday school teachers and prospective teachers under the supervision of the Rev. D. C. Wright. The first meeting will be held early in January and volunteers are asked from all the Sunday schools of the city. The course studied will be that of Prof. H. M. Hummel, which is meeting with marked success. In connection with this there will be a reading course and a teachers' training library. This will greatly benefit the Sunday school work in the city.

Mr. Fox left this afternoon for Hopkinsville, and Mr. Vaughan went there last night. After speaking there they will close the campaign at Bowling Green, having visited six cities of western Kentucky in their tour.

BANDITS DRUG RICH WOMAN

Niece of Auto Manufacturer Shorn of Jewels and Left Dazed.

Cleveland, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Helen Rosenthal niece of Alexander Winston, the millionaire automobile manufacturer, was drugged and robbed of jewels, watch and hundreds of dollars and was found wandering about the basement of the Ellington apartment house yesterday morning dazed and helpless. The police took her in charge and are investigating. Her condition still is such that she cannot discuss the case.

Working in Sewer Trench.

Work in the sewer trench in district No. 2, was commenced this morning, the first operations of the week. A gang of men are digging out the trench where the cave-in occurred and it is probable that the brick layers will be laid off until Saturday.

A rise of 3.2 was registered on the gauge this morning. The stage is 26.7. The backbone of the river seems to have been broken, and while the river will continue rising from the rain already fallen, it ought not to be far off when it begins to fall. Business at the wharf this morning was quiet. Rainfall .74 inches.

The J. B. Richardson left Nashville Wednesday on the first trip this year in the Evansville-Nashville trade. This new line will not affect Paducah, as the Richardson will enter the Ohio at Smithland, not touching at this point.

The Bob Dudley has been at Smithland for the last few days, unable to proceed to Nashville on account of the terrific current in the Cumberland river. All the boats have had hard pulls against the swift currents caused by the rise.

The Royal did not make the trip to this city from Golconda yesterday. One explanation is that she stayed in Golconda to raise a barge of coal which sank there the first of the week, but it is rumored that the Royal will be sold or disposed of in some other way.

The Georgia Lee left Memphis Wednesday evening and it will be Friday night or Saturday morning before she will reach this city. The strong current will make slow speed. The Georgia Lee will go through to Cincinnati.

The Joe Fowler got in and got away from and for Evansville last night. The John Hopkins will arrive tonight.

The Dick Fowler went to Cairo this morning a little late on account of coaling.

The Buttrif will be let off the ways this afternoon, but it probably will be Monday before it leaves for Clarksville.

The Electra will go on the ways tomorrow and next week the Clyde will be taken out.

The I. N. Hook brought a barge up from Joppa today which will be raised on the dry docks for repairs.

The dry docks has closed a contract with a Vicksburg packet company to repair a number of barges.

There will be six weeks or more work on the Kit Carson at the dry docks. A new hull will be built.

The Kentucky will arrive from the Tennessee river tonight.

The bad weather has made the rousters scarce on the rivers. Several tow boats could not get away yesterday on account of insufficient labor.

The Dunbar left for Elizabethtown, Ill., this morning after a load of corn, which it will carry to Nashville. The Henry Harley will leave Saturday to join the Dunbar in the upper Cumberland river trade.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue rising during the next several days; rise will continue rapid during the next two days. At Paducah and Cairo will continue rising during the next five days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue rising for several days. Maximum stage at Florence will exceed flood stage by from two to four feet. At Johnsonville the maximum stage will probably be above 28 feet.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, will continue rising during the next 24 to 36 hours.

Theatrical Notes

Good House Last Night.

Another large audience was mystified last night by the strange performance of Ruth Grey, who read questions she could not see, and gave answers that sounded like truth. Matinee today and tomorrow and performances tonight and tomorrow night conclude her engagement at The Kentucky. A vaudeville is given with the show.

DePew-Burdett Stock Company

The DePew-Burdett Stock company will come for a return engagement to The Kentucky theater for four nights, starting Tuesday of next week, with a matinee Thanksgiving day. They will present two new plays, "A Quaker Tragedy," a four-act comedy drama, and "When the Bell Tolls," a melodrama. By request, "A Man of Mystery" and "A Homespun Heart" will be repeated. The latter play will be the Thanksgiving attraction. Old favorites will be in the cast, and in addition new specialties will be introduced by the Wheeler sisters and Alvade. Ladies will be admitted free Tuesday night under the usual conditions if seats are reserved before 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Little Arthur Dunn.

One of the "star" attractions which will be seen here on Monday night at The Kentucky, will be the appearance of the well known and popular comedian, Arthur Dunn, in a new musical comedy, written expressly for him by Herbert Hall Winslow. Mr. Dunn who will be remembered for his excellent work in the well known play "The Runaways," is without doubt, one of the funniest of comedians. In "The Little Joker" he has secured a play that is admirably suited to his talents and one which he asserts is the best comedy in which he has ever appeared. There will be a large and competent company in support of the star and the play will be replete with bright, catchy, tuneful songs and the comedy situations and complications will be many and varied. The play is in two acts.

"Pere Gynt" or "Beau Brummel." Do you wish to see Mansfield in "Pere Gynt," or "Beau Brummel?" Manager Roberts has received a communication from the great star, who appears here in January, asking which play will be best received here. He is producing both, "Pere Gynt," an adaptation from Ibsen's drama of the northern legends, is Mansfield's latest act, and critics say, greatest production. It is magnificently staged, powerful in motive and action, portrayed by a strong company and accompanied with fine incidental music. Manager Roberts asks The Sun to announce that he will leave it to the patrons of The Kentucky. Communications expressing a preference, will be received by him at The Kentucky up to Saturday night when he will reply to Mr. Mansfield.

Tim Murphy, who appeared here in "Old Innocence" early in the season, furnishing the best show seen here so far, will return January 19 with a brand new play. Mr. Murphy is popular here and has the best company he ever carried.

Miss Lillian Lancaster

The Los Angeles Record contains an excellent picture of Miss Lillian Lancaster, of this city, and says:

Pretty Lillian Lancaster, a gentle little Kentucky girl, who is touring California for the first time will make her initial appearance before Los Angeles theater-goers at the Mason opera house with the Louis James company in Shakespeare's popular comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor." Monday night. Though she has the rather small role of "Ann Page," Miss Lancaster so surrounds it with her own personality that it stands out as one of the real bits in the production. Miss Lancaster has been playing leads until this season, but she wanted to see California and contented to play "Ann" that she might have her wish gratified. She has the soft voice and the sunny laugh of the genuine southern girl, and she is pretty.

Hats

Our Specials
$3.00

Under standing orders to our factories we get everything new just as soon as it appears in the east; and thus it's never a question of "hit or miss" here as to styles and sizes. You can always find just what you want in our stocks.

Some recent additions to our special $3 line are the new black derbies, with flat set brims; and the new flat-brim soft hats, with high, tapering, telescoped crowns, in silver pearls, tans and light brown shades. The very latest for the young fellow.

Silk Hats at $5 and $6; our great special in French opera hats at $7.

Shoes

Stacy Adams
Nettleton

Our leading line of men's high-grade shoes, which, as sole agents, we have sold and guaranteed for many years. The best leathers of the tanneries of the world go into these shoes; the best shoemakers make them. The styles range from the conservative to the radical; and the sizes and shapes meet the most exacting requirements of the male human foot. We sell Stacy Adams and Nettleton $5, $6 and $7 shoes to the same men season after season, keeping on file individual records which enable us to fill Mail Orders and insure a perfectly satisfactory fit. We'd like to have you try a pair of these shoes—and thereby add your name to our list of regular customers. All the newest shapes in the Weille Special and Barry $3.50 shoes.

We Would Suggest That You Begin Tomorrow to Get Your Clothes for Thanksgiving

Maybe you're going to eat Thanksgiving turkey with the old folks at home. Maybe you're going to have friends gather around your own festal board. Then there'll be Thanksgiving calls and society functions, the matinee and church. All these call for new clothes—in which connection please call at Weille's. A new suit or overcoat—here at $15 to $50—in the regulation conservative styles and the fashionable form-fitting models, extreme or modified—Canterberry, College Brand and other makes, with which we are daily converting the best dressed men from made-to-measure to ready-to-wear.

Suit Excellence

"Excellence" is absolutely the only thing we have taken into account in making our purchases of suits; nothing else was considered at all. Canterbury, College Brand, The Washington and Henry J. Brock & Co.'s Union Label Clothes are the brands we are offering you and we are willing to abide by your judgment as to their high character. A lavish display of distinctive patterns is made in the new form-fitting coats and peg and semi-peg-top trousers. In such a stock, selling at $7.50 to $40.00, you will find at least a dozen different suits you would be proud to wear Thanksgiving Day.

$7.50 to $40

Overcoat Excellence

"Overcoat Elegance" is the best phrase we know for describing this department of our business. And our overcoats are not only elegant, but moderate in price and exceedingly snug and comfortable; they're really luxurious. You should have no difficulty at all in making a selection, for our stock is complete and unbroken, comprising The Canterbury, College Brand, The Washington and Henry J. Brock & Co.'s Union Label Clothing; the prices range from $45.00 clear down to $7.50. When you buy overcoats from us, remember that we are familiar with every detail of their manufacture and you have our assurance of their excellence in quality and style.

Daily Thought.

"The curves in a man's life show the direction in which he is traveling."

THIS IS OUR FIELD.

South America, heretofore a producer of raw material for American comic operas and romantic novels, and an open market for the exploitation of our worst national traits, has been discovered by Elihu Root.

Unquestionably this country has been careless about its foreign trade and only our national commercial genius has enabled our merchants to enter the foreign field and successfully compete with other countries for the world's commerce. We have been a home people, interested only in our home affairs. Our congress has passed laws, affecting our relations with foreign nations, and only heard the local side of it. Occasionally we have developed statesmen, cabinet officers for most part who have evinced a wider vision, but they have been "sat down upon" by a spirit of intolerance, which actually dominated us a dozen years ago, but which now seems to us preposterous. Perhaps, our habit of changing administrations every few years has fostered this intense local feeling. Then, too, while we were building up a protective wall to foster our industries, the bent of mind was influenced by our purpose.

We have established the principle of protection, and we have builded great industrially, and our eyes are turning in search of a market place. Had Theodore Roosevelt and his advisers accomplished no other worthy object, the reform inaugurated in our consular service, the statesman-like handling of difficult foreign questions, and the close study the administration has made of our relations with our dependencies and sister republics, would mark an epoch. To John Hay belongs the honor of the beginning. Elihu Root is the chief factor in carrying on the work, and his consummate tact, skill in reasoning and patriotic devotion, are stamping him one of America's greatest men.

His visit to the Latin-American republics has cleared the clouds of misunderstanding as to our attitude cherished in South American capitals under European tutelage. He comes home laden with a message from that continent, written in words that can be converted into pure gold. He saw French, German and English merchants, ships and banks, and immigrants flocking into the country, and yet he said: "The field is so great that what other nations have done is but a slight advance in the race for the grand total."

The continent has 7,502,848 square miles with a population of 42,461,811, or six to the square mile. Fertile valleys, timber and ore laden mountains, and a population emerging from an era of militarism into an era of industrial activity, with Europe directing her energies toward cornering this fat land, are what Secretary Root saw.

Ships of other nations fill the harbors and flags of other nations greet the eye of the citizens, who are acquainted with banks of other nations and other nation's money. But the United States gets only what her "drummers" can win by fighting.

"The resources of South America are complementary to our own; that continent is weakest where North America is strongest," said Mr. Root.

That field belongs to us by every right, and, of course, we are going to annex it commercially. There remain few undeveloped lands on the globe, presenting the possibilities of South America. Europe is old and settled. Africa is only a rim of a continent commercially and that preempted. In the orient we must fight Japan, who is asserting her right to the trade. We can not afford to let slip South America and Canada, which are essentially our own.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY.
Whatever one may think of the principle involved in the subsidizing of our merchant marine, even the casual reader must admit that Secretary of State Elihu Root has enunciated the most powerful argument yet advanced in favor of the idea in his speech at Kansas City. Mr. Root comes fresh from an investigation of affairs in South America, filled with enthusiasm for the prospects of the development of that continent, and like all patriotic Americans, he was chagrined to see only one star-spangled banner floating from the masthead of a ship in a South American port. Then occurred to him the question why, and he finds the solution in the ship subsidy bill. The necessity for a rapid building up of our merchant marine seems to have impressed itself most forcefully on the mind of the statesman in connection with the South American trade, because that continent is in the process of development, affording unusual opportunities for pioneer endeavor and the investment of capital. On a merchant marine service and regular mails between New York and the principal ports, Mr. Root seems to rest all hope of permanent American predominance in South American affairs.

Mr. Root accounts for the decay of the United States merchant marine by the higher wages paid American workmen, and seamen, thereby increasing the cost of constructing and maintaining the ships and service, conditions he thinks no one would wish to change; and the fact that European nations pay in subsidies about $28,000,000 annually, enabling them to underbid American owners for American freight.

He presents as the remedy the senate bill, subsidizing the merchant marine and creating of it a naval reserve. He justifies it by pointing to the subsidy for the Pacific railroad lines, and the expenditure of money in developing internal waterways.

The news of the death of Bishop John J. Tigert at Tulsa, I. T., yesterday, came as a great shock to the Methodists of this city, where he had many friends. Six years ago this month he attended the annual session of the Memphis conference held at the Broadway Methodist church in this city, and preached at both the First Christian church and Broadway Methodist on that occasion. He was then the Book editor and editor of the Methodist Quarterly Review, from which position he was taken last May by his election to the episcopacy. He was a singularly vigorous and powerful man and thinker, with a brain as massive as his body, and his death is a loss that can hardly be computed to the church which he represented.

The commissioner of Indian affairs may have trouble in convincing the Indians that beet sugar bears no resemblance to the honeyed words of the beats who got their lands.

If they are sure they have the denizens of the "red light" up a tree, they should keep them there. It is a good idea to keep them all in the same tree.

UNDERMINED BY SWIFT CURRENT OF SALT RIVER.

L. H. & St. L. Railroad Sustains Loss of $100,000 at West Point Today.

Louisville Nov. 22.—The Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad bridge, spanning Salt river at West Point, collapsed this morning at 3:30 o'clock from the effects of the swift current which undermined the solid concrete pier, holding the immense draw span. The bridge is 340 feet long and is entirely submerged. It cost $110,000 and was finished this year.

Federation of Labor.
Minneapolis, Nov. 22.—At the close of the most spirited debate which a convention of the American Federation of Labor has witnessed in years the delegates today decided to continue political activity on the lines laid down by President Gompers in the annual report. The socialists led by Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, made a feeble effort to turn the tide into the channel of socialism and they received the most decisive defeat ever administered to them. The debate, which lasted four hours, was at times bitter in the extreme. The socialists were characterized as "professional character assassins" and "peanut politicians," whose object was to disrupt the labor movement.

TWO CENTS A MILE

FOR PASSENGERS

Rate Will Be Enforced In Kentucky By Commission.

Louisville Evening Post Says Order Will Be Promulgated In Three Months.

OHIO FIXED RATE BY A LAW

The Louisville Post says: A 2-cent-a-mile-passenger rate over all railroads in Kentucky will be ordered by the Kentucky state railroad commission within the next three months, and probably earlier.

While it is possible that some of the railroads will resist the order in the courts, it is certain that the order will be issued, and it is believed by the legal advisers of the railroad commission that it will be made effective shortly after the order is issued.

All the members of the state railroad commission are now in Louisville putting the finishing touches on a movement inaugurated some months ago, to lower the prevailing freight rates in this state.

It will be remembered that the railroad commission ordered that the freight rates prevailing on the main line of the L. & N., running to Bowling Green and Nashville, be taken as a basis, and that these rates be cut 25 per cent. All roads in the state were then forbidden to make any charge for freight higher than 25 per cent. less than the rate prevailing on the main line of the L. & N.

This order has not been put into effect, for the railroads have taken the matter to the United States courts on the plea that the order amounts to a confiscation of property. The railroad commission is now in session in Louisville to push the case to a speedy decision and the members believe that their order will be declared legal and just.

It is being shown in the pleadings that freight rates from certain points in Kentucky to Cincinnati are much lower than to Louisville.

No matter how the freight case is disposed of the railroad commission will immediately after it is concluded take up the question of passenger rates, and it is certain that a 2-cent-a-mile rate in place of the present 3-cent-a-mile rate will be ordered. This order will be promulgated the moment the freight rate question is decided.

Its effect will be to make traveling on railroads in Kentucky much cheaper, and while it will reduce the charge for each passenger it is believed that it will not injure the railroads as it will make more traveling possible.

The order comes as a result of a movement all over the country for a 2-cent-a-mile passenger rate. The Pennsylvania road has already ordered a 2-cent-a-mile rate on all its lines east of Pittsburgh. The state of Ohio has passed a law requiring a 2-cent-a-mile rate.

Kentucky will be the first state where the state railroad commission has ordered a 2-cent rate, and an interesting legal battle will probably follow.

The members of the Kentucky commission are C. C. McChord, Mc D. Ferguson and A. T. Siler.

While the order for the 2-cent rate has not yet been drawn, and may not be promulgated for some weeks it is positively known that it has been decided upon and will be issued in a short time.

MAY BE MEETING

OF KITTY LEAGUE

Danville And Jacksonville Seeking Release.

Would Join Three I League and Former Is Certain to Receive Franchise.

CIRCUIT MADE MORE COMPACT.

The Bloomington correspondent to the Chicago Record-Herald writes concerning baseball league matters as follows:

"A report that President Gossnell and several cities of the K. I. T. league were to oppose the withdrawal of Danville in order that it could join the 'Three I' league, was denied this week and if the former organization agrees to the dissolution so that Danville can get away, the only doubtful point about the transfer will be dissipated. The Danville association received word this week from President Gossnell that he would act upon their request for a meeting of the league to permit Danville and Jacksonville to withdraw and that a date in the latter part of November would be chosen.

"The K. I. T. league could adopt the 'dog in the manger' policy and decline to allow its two northern members to retire, but it is not believed that it will do so as such a course would be detrimental to the interests of the national game in both organizations.

"The K. I. T. must be reorganized in order to make the game profitable, taking in towns in the south part of Illinois and Indiana and some in Kentucky to balance the cities on the north which will withdraw. By so doing, a more compact circuit will be formed, which with the reduced mileage, will contribute to the profits of all.

"Jacksonville is somewhat disturbed over the attitude of the Iowa league, as there appears to be a change in the previous program. When Manager Egan, of Burlington, issued a call for a special meeting to be held at Quincy, it was given out that the purpose was to form a new league to be known as the 'Two I' and which would include several Illinois cities and the best of those in the old Iowa league.

"At a meeting Quincy was given membership and Jacksonville was promised a franchise also. At the second meeting, held at Burlington, there was a decided change in the program. It then developed that the Iowa league was in charge and that instead of a new league it had been decided to continue as the Iowa league and drop several of the weak members.

"No mention was made of Jacksonville, but instead it was proposed to take in Hannibal as well as Quincy. While no reason was given for ignoring Jacksonville, it is presumed that its geographical location is responsible. It is so far from the other towns that it may be feared that the mileage would be too great. Quincy and Hannibal are but a short distance from the other members.

"Jacksonville, however, is one of the best towns obtainable, having had a successful season in the K. I. T. league last year.

"The promoters of the game there assert that they will not return to the K. I. T., and if unable to secure a berth in the Iowa or 'Three I', will retire from professional ball until there is another opening. President Holland can do nothing more about admitting Danville to the 'Three I' until its relations with the K. I. T. organization are dissolved. He will then put the question to a vote. As there is but little opposition to Danville, it is confidently believed that the majority of the clubs will be favorable to that city.

"One or two of the associations favor Rockford, next to Quincy, but the view of several of the leading sporting men of Rockford, when asked to give their opinion as to the advisability of giving that city a franchise, were adverse. They expressed the opinion that Rockford was not yet ready for a return to the 'Three I' fold, that it would be wise to wait a year or two more. Under these circumstances, it is believed that all opposition to Danville will vanish. Danville is now discussing the question of a manager for next year. Several men are under investigation, and a decision will doubtless be made shortly."

WHIPS CREW

HOW CAPTAIN BROKE UP MUTINY ON OVERDUE SHIP.

Liner Kaiser Wilhelm Collides With Royal Mail Steamer and Passengers Die.

Astoria, Oregon, Nov. 22.—The British ship Iverna, given up for lost, was towed into port yesterday after being out 116 days, from a Mexican port. Those aboard experienced no suffering. Captain Collingwood, a powerful man, had to deal with two mutinies and soon broke them up by whipping the entire crew.

Collision With Royal Steamer.

Cherbourg, Nov. 22.—North German Lloyd liner, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, put back into port today following a collision with the royal mail steamer, Orinoco. The Kaiser was badly damaged and will require extensive repairs. Passengers were transferred to La Lorraine and the St. Paul, which sail Saturday. No trace was found of five men missing from the crew of the Orinoco. Twelve steerage passengers are said to have been killed on the Kaiser. Officers of the line deny this, saying four steerage passengers were killed and eight hurt. The Kaiser has a jagged hole ten feet long in her bows.

Relief for Rheumatism.

These damp days are hard on people afflicted with rheumatism, and relief is sought in all sorts of remedies.

There is no doubt in the minds of people who have suffered with the dread disease and those who have studied it closely that probably more relief can be secured from the Osteopathic treatment than any other.

Of course, some chronic cases won't yield to any treatment, but instances of cases of seven and eight years' standing yielding to three months' treatment can be cited. If you are suffering from rheumatism, I should like to discuss your case with you, examine you and tell you what I can do for you. With the dry hot air treatment that I use with osteopathy I am having very gratifying success with people you know well. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway. Phone 1497.

Rehkopf's Creditors Ready To Go To Law About Them

Federal Court Adjourns, After Setting Telephone Hearing for Louisville.

CIRCUIT COURT IS CONVENED

Creditors in the bankruptcy matter of the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company do not approve of the claims filed by attorneys in the case and filed exceptions to the largest. The date for trial was set today at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but by agreement the matter was held over until Wednesday.

Among the biggest claims to which exceptions have been filed are those of Attorneys W. V. Eaton and J. D. Mocquot, who prepared a petition to force the firm into bankruptcy after the assignment had been made. It is for $500, out from $1,000. Campbell & Campbell have in a claim for $1,000. They were attorneys for the assignee, R. J. Barber, receiver, filed a claim for $500 for his work. Bradshaw & Bradshaw are attorneys, representing the creditors, fighting the allowance of the claims.

Federal Court.

The November term of federal court was brought to a close yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock and this morning at 1:40 o'clock Judge Walter Evans and his court officers returned to Louisville. The term lasted three days, one day longer than ordinary.

The case of F. G. Rudolph, guardian for Ione Rose, against the Interstate Life Insurance company, was tried yesterday afternoon but dismissed after the defendant's testimony was heard. The petition will be redrawn and filed again. The suit is for two $5,000 insurance policies payable to the daughter of the deceased.

Judge Evans announced that he would hear the argument for the permanent injunction against the city of Paducah to restrain it from interfering with the operations of the East Tennessee Telephone company, at Louisville. Attorneys will have to go to Louisville to try the case.

The case of the Illinois Central against A. J. Thompson, administrator of Judson Pierce, was continued. Thompson sues for $10,000 damages for the loss of Pierce's life. After a fight in the state courts in which the suit was taken to the federal and then back to the state court, the railroad company was granted a temporary injunction to restrain the plaintiff from further prosecuting his suit.

Circuit Court.

Circuit court resumed this morning and Judge Reed passed on several motions. His action in the motions follows:

Motions for new trials in cases of Alexander against Paducah City railway, Spann against Paducah City railway, Spence against Gridley, Burradell against Paducah Traction company, Knight against Paducah Box and Basket company, Landier against city of Paducah, Perdue against Illinois Central, Sine against Paducah Traction company, Wynn against Paducah City railway, Cutchfield against city of Paducah, Howell against Aetna Life Insurance company, Herndon against Lowe, were overruled.

Judgments Entered.

In the case of the National Cash Register company against Frank Just and S. B. Gott, a judgment for $140 was entered.

In the case of F. G. Rudolph, administrator, against Birdie Wilbur and others, a judgment of distribution was entered.

A judgment for distribution in the case of Henry Diehl against Lawrence Dallam, administrator, was entered.

Suits Filed.

The following suits were filed in circuit court today:

Paducah Banking company against the John G. Rehkopf Bugby company for a note of $1,000.

S. Fels Brothers and Rubel against the Illinois Central, two cases, one for $51.53 and the second for $123.29 for two boxes of goods lost.

John W. Jackson against the Paducah Traction company for $2,000 damages for personal injuries. He alleges he was pushed off a car by a motorman while the car was in motion on October 5, 1906, on the Rowlandtown line, and sustained severe bruises and sprains.

In the case of J. W. Fristoe against R. R. Wood, a judgment was entered by Special Judge John K. Hendrick.

People and Pleasant Events

Popular Couple Wed.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Jessie Randle and Mr. John Neible were married by the Rev. P. H. Fields. It was a pretty home wedding. The bride wore a charmingly simple gown of white silk mull and carried bride roses. Her attendant, Miss Lula Neible, as sister of the groom, wore blue and carried carnations. The best man was Mr. Louis Seamour. A reception followed the ceremony. The color scheme of white and green was prettily carried out with white chrysanthemums and ferns in the table decorations. The couple left at 9 o'clock this morning for Little Rock, Ark., where they will reside.

Afternoon Bridge Party.

Mrs. Henry E. Thompson was the hostess of a delightful bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home on South Sixth street, complimentary to Mrs. Maurice B. Nash, Jr., and Mrs. William Oregon Bonnie, of Louisville. There were five tables of guests. The first prize, a hand-painted plate, was won by Mrs. Frank Boyd. Mrs. Maurice Nash, Jr., received the visitor's prize, a sterling silver whisk counter. The second prize, a bon bon dish, was taken by Mrs. Linneaus Orme. An attractive three course luncheon was served after the game.

Informal Evening to Visitors.

Woman's Natural Enemy

To women, half the difficulty in gaining or retaining good health has been to find out the cause of disease. The other half—avoiding or curing disease—is only a matter of common sense.

Today the world's greatest specialists and scientists have proven that nearly all of women's diseases have one common cause—uric acid—and common sense tells the certain cure.

URIC ACID versus WOMAN'S GOOD HEALTH

Uric acid is a poisonous part of the body's waste matter.

It is always present in the blood, but worry, overwork, any nervous strain, not only produces too much uric acid but causes it to be deposited in the various parts of the body.

Thus working or exposure during the menstrual period, worry, nervousness or cramping the waist is followed by deposits of uric acid in the delicate female organs.

Thus comes all irregularities in menstruation, womb and ovarian troubles, backache, headache and physical weakness. All caused by uric acid—all to be cured by driving the cause—uric acid—out of the system.

HOW URIC ACID DISEASES BEGIN

Painful, irregular, free or scanty menstruation, backache, bearing down feeling, nervousness, loss of appetite, constipation, sleeplessness, all show uric acid at work. All lead to a life full of misery or the surgeon's knife.

R If you have any of the above symptoms of disease, or if your stomach, kidneys or heart is out of order, cure yourself in the common sense way. Get LIFE PLANT from your druggist. LIFE PLANT should be every woman's constant companion in health and disease. MEDICAL ADVICE AND BOOKLET FREE

Write today, now, for a free copy of valuable booklet showing the way to "Good Health." If there is anything unusual about your case write fully to L. J. Mizer, M.D., President, The Life Plant Company. He will advise you free. Your letter will be returned with his answer.

LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio

LIFE PLANT IS WOMAN'S STRENGTH

Plain common sense, your own good judgment tells you that to cure disease you must get rid of the thing that causes disease.

Woman's diseases as we have just proven to you are largely due to uric acid.

LIFE PLANT is a solvent of uric acid. It dissolves the deposits of uric acid out of the delicate generative organs, corrects all irregularities of menstruation and relieves all ovarian and womb troubles.

To thousands upon thousands of women LIFE PLANT is a constant companion. Write us today for full information regarding LIFE PLANT and valuable free booklet on "Good Health."

COAL IS STARTED FROM PITTSBURG

Twenty-Four Million Bushels In The Tows

One Boat With Barges Goes Aground at Cofferdam, No. 3, and Barges Sink.

WILL DOUBLE AT LOUISVILLE

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 22.—With barges crowding one upon another in the eagerness of the captains and pilots to get a good start with their tows of coal, the towboat W. C. Jutte hit the bar at Marrison Island, just below dam No. 2 in the Ohio river. The towboats Gillette and Enterprise saved four barges. One barge is on the bar, two had sunk as a result of the accident and one of the barges loosened by the impact floated down the river and hit the cofferdam at No. 3 and turned turtle, all the coal being lost and the cofferdam injured.

The long line of towboats was well down the river tonight without any other damage being suffered.

The tows of today had light boats and barges, but the tows tomorrow will have the heavy boats, which contain 25,000 bushels each. The boats to go out tomorrow are the Joe B. Williams, J. B. Finley, Skylark, James A. Wood, Harry Brown.

The Raymond Horner is hurrying in with a tow of empties and should be able to get away with a tow of coal Thursday. There were about 600 loaded craft in the tows going out today, containing over 12,000,000 bushels. The tows to go out tomorrow will carry almost as much coal, as the towboats are the largest on the river and the coalboats hold nearly twice as much coal as the light boats and barges of the tows of today.

The big Sprague will probably break all records with the tows given her when the tows leaving now reach Louisville. The Sprague is kept working between Louisville and New Orleans.

Great Interest of Koenigswether Collection in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—A large number of the directors of the museums and picture galleries of Europe and many collectors assembled here today to witness the sale at auction of the famous collection of pictures belonging to Baron Koenigswether, of Vienna, chiefly masterpieces of the Dutch school. Baron von Gutmann, of Vienna, purchased Rembrandt's portrait of himself for $45,000; Ruben's portrait of a nobleman, Frederic von Marselar, brought $21,000, and will go to Paris. A landscape by Albert Cuyp brought $18,000; two Van Dykes went for $14,000 and $14,750 respectively; Cametto's "Doge's Palace" was sold for $8,125; Nicholas Lancret's Rococo picture went for $17,750; a Teniers landscape sold for $7,500; two Reynolds, one a portrait of Sir Abraham Hume, were knocked down for $5,750 and $3,825 respectively, and Marquet's portrait of the Marquise des Pourcians was sold for $15,750. The sale threw an interesting light on the relative modern value of the Dutch or Italian schools, a Tintoretto going for only $975.

DRINK PLENTY OF GOOD WATER

Valuable Prescription Which Anyone Can Procure.

Nature's Great Remedy for Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Diseases and Rheumatism.

TRY THIS AT HOME.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known physician. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected. Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was: "You must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach troubles and poor digestion. For these conditions I would suggest the following prescription, which is composed of only vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy. Any one can mix them by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. To be taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often." This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

GOVERNOR TO SIFT STOCK ISSUE

Wisconsin Executive Believes Railway Would Favor Stockholders.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22.—Governor Davidson of Wisconsin wants to know for what purposes the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company is going to spend the money it raises on the $100,000,000 of new stock it recently decided to issue and what rate is going to be charged. He desires to use this information in connection with a recommendation to the coming legislature for the enactment of a law prohibiting the overcapitalization of public service corporation. He sent a letter to the Wisconsin railroad commission today asking it to investigate the stock issue of the Northwestern and advise him of the result as early as convenient. The governor today said: "The inference is that the company permits existing stockholders to exercise a preferential right to subscribe for new stock at par, though it is worth a much larger sum in the market. The law of the state clearly contemplates that all stock should be issued for legitimate purposes."

MRS. DAVIS CRITIC OF STATE.

Letter Scoring Mississippi Causes Comment in South.

Gulport, Miss., Nov. 22.—A private letter written six years ago by Mrs. Jefferson Davis explaining why her husband, the president of the Confederacy, was buried in Virginia instead of Mississippi, has been made public and created a profound sensation throughout the south. The letter contains some tart criticism of Mississippi's public men of the period at which it was written. Mrs. Davis says she preferred Beauvoir as the resting place for her husband, but that the grave would not be inviolate and she could not afford $1,000 a year, the expense necessary to guard it. She says that while Louisiana and Virginia were anxious to have the remains, Mississippi was silent until after the body had been interred in Richmond.

MRS. JUNGBLUTH SUES FOR DIVORCE

Tells Strange Tale of Her Domestic Tribulations.

Husband Mistreated Her in Unfeeling Fashion and Set Servants Against to Spy.

M'CRAIN MURDER CASE ON

Louisville, Nov. 22.—Suit for divorce from bed and board, for $200,000 alimony and an allowance of $500 a month, pending litigation, was filed here today by Mrs. Earl Jungbluth, wife of a wealthy tobaccoist and turfman.

Mrs. Jungbluth charges the defendant with having conspired with certain discharged servants to spy over her actions and make life miserable during her residence on their place in Oldham county.

She declares that he has failed to provide for her properly. The plaintiff alleges that her husband has written her that he would not again recognize her as his wife, and that he not only refused to acquiesce in her charges but has made against her, but refused to see her again.

Telling of the robbery of the Oldham county home last summer when jewels reported worth $30,000, to $50,000 disappeared, the petition says:

"She says that during the absence of the defendant in the said city of New York and elsewhere he wrote to the plaintiff many affectionate letters in which he expressed his appreciation of her conduct, and that said letters by reason of her affection for defendant were carefully preserved by her and by her placed in a secret receptacle in the residence on said farm. That later secret agents were employed by defendant, the residence was stealthily broken into and said letters, together with some personal jewelry and personal property of the plaintiff, taken away, and she has not since said time been able to find the same."

Walter McClain Case.

Author of "The Tower," "Rider's Fortune,"
"From One Generation to Another," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Harper & Brothers

My Dear Jack—At the risk of being considered an interfering old woman, I write to ask you whether you are not soon coming to England again. As you are aware, your father and I knew each other as children. We have known each other ever since we are now almost the only survivors of our generation. My reason for troubling you with this communication is that during the last six months I have noticed a very painful change in your father. He is getting very old. He has no one but servants about him. You know his manner; it is difficult for any one to approach him, even for me. If you could come home—by accident—I think that you will never regret it in after life. I need not suggest discretion as to this letter. Your affectionate friend,

CAROLINE CANTOURNE.

Jack Meredith read this letter in the coffee room of the hotel of the Four Seasons in Wiesbaden. It was a lovely morning; the sun shone down through the trees of the Friedrichstrasse upon that spotless pavement, of which the stricken wot. The fresh breeze came bowling down from the Tannus mountains all balsamic and invigorating. It picked up the odors of the syringa and flowering currant in the Kurgarten and threw itself in at the open window of the coffee room of the hotel of the Four Seasons.

Jack Meredith was restless. Such odors as are borne on the morning breeze are apt to make those men restless who have not all that they want. And is not their name legion? The morning breeze is to the strong the moonlight of the sentimental. That which makes one vaguely yearn incites the other to get up and take.

By the train leaving Wiesbaden for Cologne, "over Mainz," as the guide book hath it, Jack Meredith left for England, in which country he had not set foot for fifteen months. Guy Oscar was in Cashmere. The machine was almost forgotten as a nine days' wonder except by those who live by the fads of mankind. Millicent Chyne had degenerated into a restless society hack. With great skill she had posed as a martyr. She had allowed it to be understood that she, having remained faithful to Jack Meredith through his time of adversity, had been heartlessly thrown over when fortune smiled upon him and there was a chance of his making a more brilliant match. With a divinity which was not without a keen shaft of irony father and son allowed this story to pass uncontradicted. Perhaps a few believed it. Perhaps they had foreseen the future. It may have been that they knew that Millicent Chyne, surrounded by the halo of whatever story she might invent, would be treated with a certain careless nonchalance by the older men, with a respectful avoidance by the younger. Truly women have the deepest punishment for their sins here on earth, for sooner or later the time will come, after the brilliancy of the first triumph, after the less pure satisfaction of the skilled siren, the time will come when all that they want is an enduring, honest love. And it is written that an enduring love cannot, with the best will in the world, be bestowed on an unworthy object. If a woman wishes to be loved purely she must have a pure heart and no past ready for the reception of that love. This is a sine qua non. The woman with a past has no future.

The short March day was closing in over London with that murky suggestion of hopelessness affected by metropolitan eventide when Jack Meredith presented himself at the door of his father's house. In his reception by the servants there was a subtle suggestion of expectation which was not lost on his keen mind. There is no patience like that of expectation in an old heart. Jack Meredith felt vaguely that he had been expected thus, daily, for many months past.

He was shown into the library, and the tall form standing there on the hearth rug had not the outline for which he had looked. The battle between old age and stubborn will is long. But old age wins. It never raises the siege. It starves the garrison out. Sir John Meredith's head seemed to have shrunk. The wig did not fit at the back. His clothes, always bearing the suggestion of emptiness, seemed to hang on ancient girdles as if the creases were well established. The clothes were old. The fateful doctrine of not worth while had set in.

Father and son shook hands, and Sir John walked feebly to the stiff backed chair, where he sat down in shame-faced silence. He was ashamed of his infirmities. His was the instinct of the dog that goes away into some hidden corner to die.

"I am glad to see you," he said, using his two hands to push himself farther back in his chair. There was a little pause. The fire was getting low. It fell together with a feeble, crumbling sound. "Shall I put some coals on?" asked Jack.

A simple question, if you will, but it was asked by the son in such a tone of quiet, filial submission that a whole volume could not contain all that it said to the old man's proud, unbending heart.

FAYORS SUBSIDY FOR STEAMSHIPS

Secretary Root Elucidates The South American Situation

How the United States Are Falling Behind in Race for Trade of a Continent.

WHAT HE LEARNED ON TRIP.

Kansas City, Nov. 22.—Secretary of State Elihu Root, in his address before the Trans-Mississippi congress on "Commercial Relations with the South American Republics," strongly advocated ship subsidy as a means of developing trade. Mr. Root spoke in part as follows:

Since the first election of President McKinley the people of the United States have for the first time accumulated a surplus of capital beyond the requirements of internal developments. That surplus is increasing with extraordinary rapidity. We have paid our debts to Europe, and have become a creditor instead of a debtor nation; we have faced about; we have left the ranks of the borrowing nations and have entered the ranks of the investing nations. Our surplus energy is beginning to look beyond our own borders, throughout the world, to find opportunity for the probable use of our surplus capital, foreign markets for our manufactures, foreign mines to be developed, foreign bridges and railroads and public works to be built, foreign rivers to be turned into electric power and light.

That we are not beginning our new role feebly is indicated by $1,518,561,666 of exports in the year 1903, as against $1,117,513,071 of imports, and by $1,743,864,500 exports in the year 1904, as against $1,226,563,843 of imports.

Coincident with this change in the United States the progress of political development has been carrying the neighboring continent of South America out of the stage of militarism into the stage of industrialism. Other investing nations are already in the field—England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain—but the field is so vast, the new demands are so great, the progress so rapid, that what other nations have done up to this time is but a slight advance in the race for the grand total. The area of this newly awakened continent is 7,502,848 square miles, more than two and one-half times as large as the United States without Alaska and more than double the United States including Alaska.

The population in 1900 was only 42,461,881, less than six to the square mile. With this sparse population the production of wealth is already enormous. The latest trade statistics show exports from South America to foreign countries of $745,530,000 and imports of $499,858,600. Of the five hundred millions of goods that South America buys we sell them but $63,246,525, or 12.6 per cent. Of the five hundred and forty-five millions that South America sells we buy $152,092,000, or 20.4 per cent, nearly two and a half times as much as we sell.

This is only the beginning; the coffee and rubber of Brazil, the wheat and beef and hides of Argentine and Uruguay, the copper and nitrates of Chile, the copper and tin of Bolivia, the silver and gold and cotton and sugar of Peru, are but samples of what the soil and mines of that wonderful continent are capable of yielding. Ninety-seven per cent of the territory of South America is occupied by ten independent republics living under constitutions substantially copied or adopted from our own.

The pressure of population abroad will inevitably turn its stream of life and labor toward those fertile fields and valleys; the streams have already begun to flow; more than two hundred thousand immigrants entered the Argentine Republic last year. Many thousands of Germans have already settled in Southern Brazil.

Market for World's Commerce. With the increase of population in such a field, under free institutions, with the fruits of labor and the rewards of enterprise secure, the production of wealth and the increase of purchasing power will afford a market for the commerce of the world worthy to rank even with the markets of the orient as the prize of business enterprise. The material resources of South America are in some important respects complementary to our own; that continent is weakest where North America is strongest as a field for manufactures; it has comparatively little coal and iron.

To utilize this opportunity, certain practical things must be done. For the most part these things must be done by a multitude of individual efforts; they cannot be done by government may help to furnish facilities for the doing of them, but the facilities will be useless unless used by individuals; they cannot be done by resolutions of this or any other commercial body; resolutions are useless unless they stir individual business men to action in their own business affairs. The things needed have been fully and specifically set forth in many reports of efficient consuls and of highly competent agents of the department of commerce, and they have been described in countless newspapers and magazine articles; but all these things are worthless unless they are followed by individual action. I will indicate some of the matters to which every producer and merchant who desires South American trade should pay attention:

He should learn what the South Americans want and conform his product to their wants.

Both for purpose of learning what the South American people want and of securing their attention to your goods you must have agents who speak the Spanish language.

The establishment of banks should be brought about. The Americans already engaged in South American trade could well afford to subscribe the capital and establish an American bank in each of the principal cities of South America.

The American merchant should acquire himself if he has not already done so, and should impress upon all his agents that respect for the South American to which he is justly entitled and which is the essential requisite to respect from the South American.

The investment of American capital in South America under the direction of American experts should be promoted, not merely upon similar investment grounds, but as a means of creating and enlarging trade.

It is absolutely essential that the means of communication between the two continents should be improved and increased.

This underlies all other considerations, and it applies both to the mail, the passenger and the freight services. Between all the principal South American ports and England, Germany, France, Spain and Italy lines of swift and commodious steamers ply regularly. There are five subsidized first-class mail and passenger lines between Buenos Ayres and Europe; there is no line between Buenos Ayres and the United States.

In the year ending June 30, 1905, there entered the port of Rio de Janeiro steamers and sailing vessels flying the flag of Italy 165, of Argentina 264, of France 349, of Germany 657, of Great Britain 1,785, of the United States no steamers and seven sailing vessels, two of which were in distress.

An English firm runs a small steamer monthly between New York and Rio de Janeiro; the Panama Railroad company runs steamers between New York and the Isthmus of Panama; the Brazilians are starting for themselves a line between Rio and New York. That is the sum total of American communications with South America beyond the Caribbean Sea. Not one American steamship runs to any South American port beyond the Caribbean. During the past summer I entered the ports of Para, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo, Buenos Ayres, Bahia Blanca, Punta Arenas, Lota, Valparaiso, Coquimbo, Tocopilla, Callao and Carthage—all of the great ports and a large proportion of the southern continent. I saw only one ship, besides the cruiser that carried me, flying the American flag. The mails between South America and Europe are swift, regular and certain; between South America and the United States they are slow, irregular and uncertain.

The freight charges between the South American cities and American cities are generally and substantially higher than between the same cities and Europe; at many points the deliveries of freight are uncertain and its condition upon arrival doubtful. The passenger accommodations are such as to make a journey to the United States a trial to be endured and a journey to Europe a pleasure to be enjoyed.

Our Feeble Merchant Marine.

This woeful deficiency in the means to carry on and enlarge our South American trade is but a part of the general decline and feebleness of the American merchant marine, which has reduced us from carrying over 90 per cent of that trade in our own ships and dependence upon foreign ship-owners for the carriage of 91 per cent. The true remedy and the only remedy is the establishment of American lines of steamships between the United States and the great ports of South America adequate to render fully as good service as is now afforded by the European lines between those ports and Europe.

How can this defect be remedied? The answer to this question must be found by ascertaining the cause of the decline of our merchant marine. Why is it that Americans have substantially retired from the foreign transport service? We are a nation of maritime traditions and facility; we are a nation of constructive capacity, competent to build ships; we are eminent, if not pre-eminent, in the construction of machinery; we have abundant capital seeking investment; we have courage and enterprise shrinking from no competition in any field which we choose to enter. Why then have we retired from this field in which we were once conspicuously successful?

I think the answer is twofold.

First—The higher wages and the greater cost of maintenance of American officers and crews make it impossible to compete on equal terms with foreign ships. The scale of living and the scale of pay of American sailors is fixed by the standard of wages and of living in the United States and those are maintained at a high level by the protective tariff. The moment the American passes beyond the limits of his country and engages in ocean transportation he comes into competition with the lower foreign scale of wages and of living.

Second—The principal maritime nations of the world, anxious to develop their trade, to promote their shipbuilding industry, to have at hand transports and auxiliary cruisers in case of war, are fostering their steamship lines by the payment of subsidies. England is paying to her steamship lines between six and seven million dollars a year. The enormous development of her commerce, her preponderant share of the carrying trade of the world, and her shipyards crowded with construction orders from every part of the earth, indicate the success of her policy. France is paying about eight million dollars a year; Italy and Japan, between three and four million each; Germany, upon the initiative of Bismarck, is building up her trade with wonderful rapidity by heavy subsidies to her steamship lines and by giving special differential rates of carriage over her railroads for merchandise shipped by those lines. Spain, Norway, Austria-Hungary, Canada all subsidize their own lines. It is estimated that about $28,000,000 a year are paid by our commercial competitors to their steamship lines.

Against these advantages to his competitor the American ship owner has to contend; and it is manifest that the subsidized ship can afford to carry freight at cost for a long enough period to drive him out of business.

What action ought our government to take for the accomplishment of this purpose? Three kinds of action have been advocated:

There remains the obvious method, to neutralize the artificial disadvantages imposed upon American shipping through the action of our own government and foreign governments by an equivalent advantage in the form of a subsidy or a convention. In my opinion, this is what should be done; it is the sensible and fair thing to do. It is what must be done if we would have a revival of our shipping and the desired development of our foreign trade. We cannot repeal the protective tariff; no political party dreams of repealing it; we do not wish to lower the standard of American wages. We should give back to the ship owner what we take away from him for the purpose of maintaining that standard; and unless we do give it back, we shall continue to go without ships. How can the expenditure of public money for the improvement of rivers and harbors to promote trade be justified upon any grounds which do not also sustain this proposal? Would anyone reverse the policy that granted aid to the Pacific railroads, the pioneers of our enormous internal revenue commerce the agencies that built up the great traffic which has enabled half a dozen other roads to be built in later years without assistance? Such subsidies would not be gifts. They would be at once compensation for benefits received by the whole American people—not the shippers or the shipbuilders or the sailors alone, but by every manufacturer, every miner, every farmer, every merchant whose prosperity depends upon a market for his products.

The provision for such just compensation should be carefully shaped and directed so that it will go to individual advantage only so far as the individual is enabled by it to earn a reasonable profit by building up the business of the country.

The Ship Subsidy Bill.

A bill is now pending in congress which contains such provisions; it has passed the senate and is now before the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries; it is known as Senate Bill No. 529. Fifty-ninth Congress, First Session. It provides specifically that the postmaster general may pay to American steamships, of specified rates of speed, carrying mails upon a regular service, compensation not to exceed the following amounts: For a line from an Atlantic port to Brazil, monthly, $150,000 a year, for a line from an Atlantic port to Uruguay and Argentina, monthly, $187,500 a year, for a line from a gulf port to Brazil monthly, $137,500 a year, for a line from each of two gulf ports and from New Orleans to Central America and the Isthmus of Panama weekly, $75,000 a year, for a line from a Pacific coast port to Mexico, Central America and the Isthmus of Panama, fortnightly, $120,000 a year. For these six regular lines a total of $720,000. The payments provided are no more than enough to give the American ships a fair living chance in the competition.

There are other wise and reasonable provisions in the bill relating to trade with the orient, to tramp steamers and to a naval reserve, but I am now concerned with the provisions for trade to the south. The hope of such a trade lies chiefly in the passage of that bill.

HITCHCOCK GOES WITH CORTELYOU

To Become First Assistant In Treasury Department.

Several Candidates Appear for Post of Assistant Postmaster General.

NEWS OF NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Washington, Nov. 22.—When Postmaster General Cortelyou goes to the head of the treasury department as the successor of Leslie M. Shaw, he is expected to take with him from the postoffice department First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, whose record has favorably impressed Mr. Cortelyou. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Keep will probably retire, and if Mr. Hitchcock enters the treasury it will be as his successor. Probability of a vacancy in the office of first assistant postmaster general has brought several candidates into the field, the latest being John S. Everman, private secretary to Representative McKinley of Illinois.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The elephants do not furnish the only problem the treasury is compelled to face this week. A new counterfeit $10 "buffalo" United States note has made its appearance. The counterfeit is apparently a photo-lithographic production, printed on two pieces of paper with silk fiber distributed between them. It is dangerous, but it can be detected readily when handled with the genuine bills, because of the color of the back, which is a dark bluish green. So far as the numbering and ornamental work is concerned the bill is an excellent reproduction.

production. The secret service has the matter in hand, and is hard at work trying to run down the "plant" where the note is manufactured. It is not known definitely just how many of the counterfeits are in circulation.

Washington Not Pleasant.—Washington these days is not an ideal place of residence. The glorious Indian summer has gone and the damp, disagreeable cold of the Washington winter has set in. Snow already has fallen in the half-hearted way it always does in the District of Columbia, and the arrivals of congressmen for the coming session are few. A large number of senators and representatives are reported to be making their headquarters at Hot Springs, Va., where they are recuperating after the campaign. So many are there, in fact, the big Homestead hotel really might be considered an annex to the Capitol. The accessibility of the noted Virginia watering place makes it a favorite resort, for it is practically equidistant from New York, Washington, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. Even Chicago might be included, for one night's ride in a Pullman car lands one from any of these cities beside the healing springs. Sheltered from the harsh winds by the Blue Ridge and Warm Springs mountain ranges, the place has become a favorite winter watering place with official Washington.

CIVIL SERVICE LEAGUE ELECTIONS

National Reform Body Reinstates Old President.

New Haven, Nov. 22.—Dr. Daniel C. Gillman, of Baltimore, was today re-elected president of the National Civil Service Reform League. The new members of the council are Nathaniel H. Davis, of Ohio, Charles N. Gregory, of Iowa, William V. Keelen, of Massachusetts, and John P. Miller, of New York, and Jacob Read, of Massachusetts. All the vice presidents and the old council were re-elected. Mr. Vaughan, of Massachusetts, submitted the report of the treasurer. The report shows increased contributions from state associations and auxiliaries and a larger surplus than a year ago.

LITTLE INTEREST IN NEXT CONGRESS

President Expected To Arouse Some Excitement.

Real Problems Will Come Up in Connection With Immigration and Labor.

THE JAPANESE EXCLUSION LAW.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Less interest is being manifested in the approaching session of congress than has been known in a long while. The session gives every promise of being uneventful; other than the routine, there is nothing in view.
This time last year everybody was excited over the railroad rate legislation. There was the prospect of a stiff-necked senate resisting the presidential yoke with a bully scrap in sight. The bill was not to pass, not unless a certain heated place should freeze over. There have been no reports of the freeze, but a bill of the kind is on the statute books. There were other prospects last year which gave promise of a lively session. They are lacking now.

The President's Message.

At the same time the president's message is expected to be one of the most interesting ever sent to a congress. His trip to Panama and his views on "swollen wealth" will be the features. The currency reform bills will attract some attention, but it is pretty difficult for the average person to get excited over that question.

The president is expected, however, to live up to the proceedings with his new railroad recommendations and taxation of swollen fortunes. There will be a scramble to get into the band wagon with him and the hall of the popular branch will resound with acclaim of his schemes of taxation. Already some industrious souls out in the country are trying to beat him to it.

Real Problems for Congress. But there will be some real problems.

But you won't give it to them. You put it off from day to day.

lems for the congress to solve just the same. Immigration is a question that will require some very careful handling. The immigration bill which passed at the last session in a shape which was unsatisfactory to the president, is in conference and will have to be disposed of some way. It is said that the president is to insist upon his views.

If the Pacific coast delegations bring in a bill proposing to hamper Japanese immigration or to further embarrass the already acute labor situation on the coast, congress will face an exceedingly dangerous problem, loaded with both domestic and international dynamite. All reports from the coast indicate that the people are united and determined against the alleged menace of Japanese labor. It is only a question of whether the bomb will be dropped into congress, and if so, whether the fuse can be stamped out before it burns close.

Plans of Labor Unions.

The labor unions will make things warm for congress again this session, according to present indications. The legislation which was refused last session and the refusal of which prompted the federation to oppose congressional nominees in the elections, will be urged again. It is thought quite probable that organized labor will take up the cause of the Pacific coast unions in their opposition to the Japanese, in which event the labor situation before congress would be further embarrassed.

MONEY PLANTED

BELIEVED THAT STENSLAND SAVED OUT A MODEST SUM.

$40,000 Note Turns Up to Trouble Courts—Date After Wrecker Had Fled.

Chicago Nov. 22.—A claim filed before Master in Bankruptcy Wean against the bankrupt estate of Paul O. Stensland today revealed the fact that under date of July 16, 1906, the Milwaukee Avenue bank wrecker, "for value received," gave his note for $40,000 to the American Trust and Savings bank and gave as collateral 800 shares of stock in the Milwaukee Avenue State bank.

July 14 (Saturday) was the last day he was at the bank.

Sunday afternoon, July 15, he is supposed to have taken the train for New York.

Joseph Welzenbach, attorney for the receiver, he said:
"If Paul O. Stensland got $40,000 on July 16, or on any of the last days of the bank's existence, that money never went into the bank. If Stensland secured $40,000 at or about that time he must have it secreted some place now, as but $12,000 was found to his credit in the French bank at Tangier."

ANNUAL REPORT OF DEPARTMENT

Is Being Prepared And Inventories Are Ordered

Board of Public Works Orders Traction Company to Conform to Grade.

COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED

The board of public works is preparing to draw up its annual report and yesterday directed Superintendent Keebler, of the city lighting plant, and Alonzo Elliott, street inspector to draw up complete inventories to present at the next meeting, if possible. The reports will comprise all equipment on hand and the conditions of the light and street departments to the most minute detail.

The Paducah Traction company was ordered immediately to lower tracks on Jefferson street. The reason the company gave for failure to lower its tracks was that City Engineer Washington had not furnished the grade. The grade is ready.

Authority to tear a wooden awning shed in front of the Hawkins feed store on South Second street, was given contractors building the street if the shed offers an obstruction to their work.

Alonzo Elliott, street inspector, was directed to fence up Husbands street between Fourth and Sixth streets except where Fifth street runs through and not to put any more dirt on the fill being built through the hollow.

A petition was filed by property owners in Littleville agreeing to give property for street purposes. The matter was referred to the general council.

Final notice was ordered served on Fisher & Farley, veterinary surgeons, to remove a concrete driveway in front of their stables on South Third street.

Authority to put in a switch on Tennessee street between Ninth and Tenth streets was granted the traction company.

The traction company filed a report that it would place the streets in good repair where they have been torn up for track work, especially at Third street and Kentucky avenue and Fourth and Washington streets. The traction company filed a report, promising to finish double tracking Broadway as soon as possible.

Damage to the Caldwell street fill caused by the bursting of a water main was ordered repaired at the expense of the water company.

City Engineer L. A. Washington was directed to have warrants issued against persons leaving trash on streets more than 24 hours.

A petition for a street light at the "L" formed in the alley in the rear of Englert & Bryant's grocery store on South Second street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue. It was refused.

All but one property owner has agreed to dedicate property necessary to gravel a fill leading to the Paducah Box and Basket company plant near the Illinois Central depot. The board suspended action until all property owners dedicate.
